William Hadikusumo is an Associate in Selman Breitman's Orange County office and is a member of the firm's General Liability and Insurance practice groups. He represents insurance carriers, corporations, small business owners, and public entities in a variety of matters including personal injury, catastrophic injury, negligence, and premises liability suits.

William's extensive experience in all aspects of civil litigation enables him to prepare and develop creative and cost-effective litigation strategies specifically tailored to the facts and law in each case.

His commitment to unparalleled service to his clients has garnered outstanding results at all stages of the case from initial investigation, discovery, and trial. Recently, William successfully argued a motion for summary judgment in a hotly contested premises liability action.

When he is not attending to client matters, William spends his time hiking, camping, and deep-sea scuba diving. He also volunteers as an amateur art critic at his local Paint and Wine Night.
